January Facts...:

1 The Romans called this month “January” after their god “Janus” who was god of gateways. Janus had two similar heads so he could look at both directions; one head looking back at the old year and one looking forward towards the new year. The birth-stone for January is the garnet and the flower associated with this month is the carnation. More couples separate or divorce during January than in any other month...

Starry Gemini hang like glorious crowns... Over Orion's grave low down in the West...

February Facts....:

This month is named after a Roman purification ritual named "Februa". This ritual was an early spring cleaning festival. In Old English, February was named "Solmonath" (Mud Month) or "Kale-Monath" (Cabbage Month). The word "February" is the most common misspelled word in the English language! February is the only month that can pass without a Full Moon phase. This occurs in 2018...

 pers, And now nights draw near to half the day, What time the hoar frost copies on the ground, The outward semblance of her sister white, But little lasts the temper of her pen...*
 -Longfellow's transl. of "Dante's Inferno")

March Facts...:

This month was named after Roman god Mars who was god of war. During March the Roman military campaigning season got under way after winter. "March" is the only month name with three consecutive consonants. In Old English March is called "Hlyda" which means "loud". Before the calendar reform of Julius Ceasar in ancient Rome, March was the first month of the year...

If at sunrise the clouds are driven away, and retire, as it were, to the West, this denotes fair weather...

9 September is the 9th month in the Western calendar and has 9 letters in its name; the only month with the same number of letters as the number of the month. In Old English September was called "Gerst-Monath" (barley month) or "Haefest-Monath" (harvest month) celebrating the barley harvest. September took its name from the Latin word "Septem" (seven) as it was the 7th month in the old Roman calendar.

It is autumn; In the desert night, sharp like a sword gleams the moon upon the frosted grass...
